1. Purpose. To implement reference (a), which directs the Department of the Navy (DON) policy and provides guidance on equal opportunity (EO), including prevention of unlawful discrimination and sexual harassment (SH). This is a complete revision and should be reviewed in its entirety.

2. Cancellation. OPNAVINST 5354.1D and Report symbols OPNAV 5354-10 and DD-FM&P(A) 1760.

3. Applicability and Scope

a. The provisions of this instruction apply without regard to race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, or religion within constraints of the law to all active duty Navy, Naval Reserve, and assigned civilian personnel (not to supersede the provisions of paragraph (3b)).

b. Policies and procedures on DON Civilian Discrimination Complaints Program are issued as a separate instruction by Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Civilian Personnel/Equal Employment Opportunity (DASN CP/EEO). DON civilian EEO policy implements the regulatory requirements of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) Title 29 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part 1614, and is provided in reference (b). SH policy for civilian personnel is outlined in reference (c). Civilian employees who raise allegations of discrimination shall be referred to the appropriate servicing human resources office (HRO). Civilian personnel policy instructions concerning EEO and SH have applicability to Navy commands/staffs employing U.S. civilian personnel and to all civilian employees, the commanding officer (CO), and all military managers and supervisors of civilian personnel.

c. This instruction discusses only EO. Other forms of unacceptable conduct, such as supremacist activity, hazing, and fraternization are addressed in references (d), (e), and (f).

4. Discussion

a. Acts of unlawful discrimination and SH are contrary to our core values of honor, courage, and commitment. Sailors and civilians who model Navy core values do not engage in negative behaviors nor condone these actions in others. Additionally, these practices adversely affect good order and discipline, mission readiness, and prevent our Navy from attaining the highest level of operational readiness.

c. CMEO is intended to be one of many commanders' tools for the prevention of unprofessional behavior and for ensuring EO goals are obtained. Leadership has the authority and responsibility to ensure that our Navy core values are integrated into our daily business.

d. Appropriate action to resolve an incident of unlawful discrimination or SH, as defined in enclosure (1), will depend upon circumstances surrounding that incident. Incidents of unlawful discrimination or SH cover a wide range of behaviors, from verbal comments to physical acts, and can be subtle or overt per enclosure (2). Likewise, the full range of administrative and disciplinary actions are available to address unlawful discrimination and SH. In the case of military personnel, these include, but are not limited to, informal counseling, comments in fitness reports and evaluations, punitive measures under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), and administrative separation.

5. Definitions. Terms used in this policy are defined in enclosure (1).

6. Policy

a. As stated in references (a) and (c), it is DOD and DON policy to prohibit unlawful discrimination and SH against persons or groups based on race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, or religion. Service members shall be evaluated only on individual merit, fitness, and capability.

b. EO, the prevention of SH, and all the elements thereof as defined in this instruction are gender-neutral concepts. The focus is on the detriment to good order, discipline, and military readiness that results when our Navy's core values are not adhered to, not the sex of the members involved; therefore, discrimination, SH, threats, and other behaviors covered by this instruction involving members of the same sex are prohibited and all requirements of this instruction apply. This includes conduct against service members on the basis of sexual orientation or homosexual conduct.

c. As stated in reference (d) and article 1167 of reference (g), Navy personnel are prohibited from participating in organizations that support supremacist causes. Attempting to create illegal discrimination, encouraging force or violence, or otherwise engaging in efforts to deprive others of their civil rights is prohibited. Participating in public demonstrations/rallying, fundraising, recruiting for, training members, and organizing/leading such organizations are prohibited.

d. This instruction and the prohibition of unlawful discrimination, SH, and supremacist activities found in articles 1164, 1166, and 1167 of reference (g) are lawful general orders effective without further implementation. Violation of this instruction subjects involved members to disciplinary action under the UCMJ, or in the case of civilian employees, may result in disciplinary action.

e. No individual in the Navy organization shall

(1) take reprisal action, as defined in enclosure (1) and reference (c), against a person who provides information on an incident of alleged unlawful discrimination or SH. Reprisals are prohibited under this instruction regardless of who originates the reprisal action.

(2) knowingly make a false accusation of unlawful discrimination or SH.

(3) while in a supervisory or command position, condone or ignore unlawful discrimination or SH of which individuals have knowledge or have reason to have knowledge.

The test requires a hypothetical exposure of a reasonable person (third party) to the same set of facts and circumstances, if the behavior is offensive, then the test is met. 27. Sexual Harassment (SH)

a. Definition: A form of sex discrimination that involves unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when

(1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's job, pay, or career;

(2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as a basis for career or employment decisions affecting that person; or

(3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

b. This definition emphasizes that workplace conduct, to be actionable as "abusive work environment" harassment, need not result in concrete psychological harm to the victim, but rather need only be so severe or pervasive that a reasonable person would perceive, and the victim does perceive, the work environment as hostile or offensive.

c. The term "workplace" or "work environment" is an expansive term for military members and may include conduct on or off duty, 24 hours a day. The work environment is the workplace or any other place that is work-connected, as well as the conditions or atmosphere under which people are required to work. Examples of work environment include, but are not limited to, an office, an entire office building, a DOD base or installation, DOD ships, aircraft or vehicles, anywhere when engaged in official DON business, as well as command-sponsored social, recreational and sporting events, regardless of location.

d. Any person in a supervisory or command position who uses or condones any form of sexual behavior to control, influence, or affect the career, pay, or job of a military member or civilian employee is engaging in SH.

e. Any military member or civilian employee who makes deliberate or repeated unwelcome verbal comments, gestures, or physical contact of a sexual nature in the workplace is also engaging in SH.

28. Survey Tools. CATWIN or the Command Assessment Team Survey System (CATSYS) 4.0 for DOS. Other options include

- a. Military Equal Opportunity Climate Survey (MEOCS);
  - b. Small Unit Equal Opportunity Climate Survey (SUEOCS);
- and
- c. contracted surveys.

29. Third Party Discrimination/Sexual Harassment. Any act of discrimination or SH that is witnessed by a military member or civilian who was not the intended recipient of the act.

30. Unlawful Discrimination. Includes discrimination on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, or religion that is not otherwise authorized by law or regulation.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT (SH) GUIDELINES AND RANGE OF BEHAVIORS

1. Introduction. This enclosure explains and illustrates behaviors that may constitute SH and is intended to assist military members and civilian employees in distinguishing between acceptable and unacceptable behavior in the work environment. The policy established by this instruction is not intended to prevent the types of behavior which are appropriate in normal work settings and which contribute to camaraderie.

2. Description. SH may consist of a wide range of behaviors that are unwelcome, sexual in nature, and connected in some way with a person's job or work environment, (for servicemembers this may include conduct on or off duty, 24 hours a day). It can, at times, be difficult to determine whether or not a behavior constitutes SH.

a. Unwelcome behavior is behavior that a person does not ask for and which that person considers undesirable or offensive. Not everyone has the same perception of the term "undesirable or offensive." Since the person being subjected to the behavior, "the recipient," is the one being affected, it is the recipient's perception that counts. A common sense approach uses the "reasonable person standard" defined in enclosure (1), which considers the situation from the perspective of the recipient. Behavior that a "reasonable person" would find unwelcome may be grieved.

b. Behavior that is sexual in nature includes, but is not limited to, telling sexually explicit jokes, displaying sexually suggestive pictures, and talking about sex. Some people would consider other behaviors, such as touching, to be sexual in some cases but not in others. Using common sense will normally be enough to determine whether or not a certain behavior is sexual in nature.

c. SH is a gender-neutral concept. The focus is on the detriment to good order, discipline and military readiness that results when our Navy's core values are not adhered to, not the sex of the members involved; therefore, sexually harassing behaviors involving members of the same sex as well as those directed at service members on the basis of alleged homosexuality are prohibited and all requirements of this instruction apply.

d. For SH to occur, unwelcome sexual behavior must occur in or impact on the work environment.

(1) When recipients are offered or denied something that is work-connected in return for submitting to or rejecting unwelcome sexual behavior, they have been subjected to a type of SH known as "quid pro quo," or "this for that." Examples include getting or losing a job, a promotion or demotion, a good or bad performance evaluation, etc. Normally, this is from a senior to a junior, because the senior person has something to offer.

(2) When the unwelcome sexual behavior of one or more persons in a workplace interferes with another person's work performance, SH has occurred. If the behavior produces a work atmosphere that is offensive, intimidating or abusive to another person, whether or not work performance is affected, a type of SH called "hostile environment" has occurred. Witnesses of SH, as well as the recipient of the offending behavior, may experience a hostile work environment. Following are a few examples of behavior that could create a hostile environment:

- (a) Using sexually explicit or sexually offensive language;
- (b) Displaying sexually oriented posters or calendars;
- (c) Touching someone or self in a suggestive manner;
- (d) Giving someone unwelcome letters, cards, or gifts of a personal nature, particularly when these items have sexual overtones; and/or
- (e) Unwanted or uninvited pressure for dates.

3. Range of Behaviors. Some behaviors may be unwelcome and work-connected, but not sexual (e.g., performance counseling), and obviously do not constitute SH. To better explain the range of behaviors, which may constitute SH, the traffic light, illustration was developed, in which behaviors are divided into three zones, corresponding to the colors on a traffic light. Green on the traffic light means "go" and behavior in the green zone is acceptable. Green zone behavior is not SH. Yellow on the traffic light means "caution," and behavior in the yellow zone may be SH. Red on the traffic light means "stop." Red zone behaviors are SH. Just as with a traffic light, if in the yellow zone long enough, the light will turn red. If yellow zone behaviors occur repeatedly, especially after the person has been told it is unwelcome, it becomes red zone behavior--SH. The following examples illustrate these three types of behavior:

a. Green zone. These behaviors are not SH:

- (1) Touching which could not reasonably be perceived in a sexual way (such as shaking hands or a friendly pat on the shoulder)
- (2) Counseling on military appearance
- (3) Social interaction; showing concern or encouragement
- (4) A polite compliment or friendly conversation

b. Yellow zone. Many people would find these behaviors unacceptable and they could be SH:

- (1) Violating personal space
- (2) Whistling, questions about personal life
- (3) Lewd or sexually suggestive comments
- (4) Suggestive posters or calendars
- (5) Off-color jokes
- (6) Leering
- (7) Staring
- (8) Repeated requests for dates
- (9) Foul language;
- (10) Unwanted letters or poems

(11) Sexually suggestive touching or gesturing

c. Red zone. These behaviors are always considered SH:

(1) Sexual favors in return for employment rewards

(2) Threats if sexual favors are not provided

(3) Sexually explicit pictures (including calendars or posters) or remarks

(4) Using status to request dates

(5) Obscene letters or comments

Note: Keep in mind that the above examples are used as guidance only, that individuals believe they are being SH based on their perceptions, that each incident is judged on the totality of facts in that particular case, and that individuals' judgment may vary on the same facts; therefore, caution in this area is advised. Anytime sexually oriented behavior is introduced into the work environment or among co-workers; the individuals involved are on notice that the behavior may constitute SH. The most severe forms of SH constitute criminal conduct, (e.g. sexual assault).

NAVY GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING, HANDLING, AND REPORTING
EQUAL OPPORTUNITY (EO) COMPLAINTS

1. General guidelines

a. The chain of command is the primary and preferred channel for identifying and correcting discriminatory practices. This includes the processing and resolving of complaints of unlawful discrimination and sexual harassment (SH). Commanders have direct responsibility for managing the complaint process. They must ensure that the informal and formal complaint resolution systems are clearly communicated and well understood by all personnel.

b. Individuals who believe they have experienced (or observed) a sexually harassing or discriminating situation are encouraged to use the informal resolution system (IRS) (NAVPERS 15620) to reach a satisfactory resolution. Reference (k), the Department of the Navy (DON) IRS serves as the model for informal complaint handling. Complaints should be resolved informally whenever possible; however, there is no requirement to attempt informal resolution prior to filing a formal complaint. Actions for informal resolution include:

(1) address the concerns verbally or in writing with the person(s) demonstrating the behavior;

(2) request assistance from another command member or request mediation to resolve the dispute;

(3) request EO training be presented in the workplace.

c. Witnesses to unlawful discrimination or SH shall be held accountable for reporting offenses per reference (g), article 1137.

d. Persons who are subjected to or observe objectionable behavior shall promptly notify the chain of command if the

(1) situation is not resolved.

(2) objectionable behavior does not stop.

Enclosure (3)

(3) address the objectionable behavior directly with the person concerned is not reasonable under the circumstances.

(4) behavior is clearly criminal in nature.

Note: If the person demonstrating the objectionable behavior is a direct superior in the chain of command or the chain of command condones the conduct or ignores a report, individuals who have been subjected to or who observe objectionable behavior are encouraged to promptly communicate the incident through other available means.

e. All reported incidents of unlawful discrimination or SH shall be investigated in a fair, impartial, and prompt manner and resolved at the lowest appropriate level. The nature of the investigation will depend upon the particular facts and circumstances and may consist of an informal inquiry where that action is sufficient to resolve factual issues.

f. Administrative investigations will be conducted at the local command as appropriate. Reprisal investigations will normally be handled at the next higher level in the chain of command.

g. Both the initial and the final appellate authority may determine whether the initial complaint and/or the appeal was made in good faith, and if not, take appropriate corrective measures, including punitive action.

h. Procedures for processing complaints at joint or unified commands will be per Service directives as determined by the joint or unified command's chain of command and will be issued in writing by the commander. Personnel may obtain counsel and/or support from the Armed Forces Staff equal opportunity advisor (EOA).

2. Complainant Responsibilities

a. A complaint should be made within 60 days of the offending incident, or in the case of a series of incidents, within 60 days of the most recent incident. Commanders may accept complaints beyond this time frame if, in their judgement, circumstances warrant. This applies to both active duty and reserve.

OPNAVINST 5354.1E

b. Individuals may file a complaint using NAVPERS 5354/2, Navy Equal Opportunity (EO)/Sexual Harassment (SH) Formal Complaint Form, (enclosure 4). It can be obtained from the Command Managed Equal Opportunity (CMEO) manager, the Echelon 2 EOA, or downloaded from NAVPERSCOM's Professional Relationships website (enclosure 7). The complaint must include a signed statement submitted in writing.

c. The preferred method of filing a formal complaint is by submitting a NAVPERS 5354/2, Navy Equal Opportunity (EO)/Sexual Harassment (SH) Formal Complaint Form. Other formal resolution options include (but are not limited to)

(1) Filing a U.S. Navy Regulations article 1150, Redress of Wrong Committed by a Superior (other than the commander).

(2) Filing a Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) article 138, Complaints of Wrongs against the commander.

(3) Filing a NAVPERS 1626/7, Report and Disposition of Offenses.

(4) Contacting the inspector general (IG), which includes Echelon 2 IGs, as well as the Navy Inspector General (NAVINSGEN).

(5) Communicating with elected officials.

NOTE: Sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) above should be done with legal assistance.

d. File complaints in good faith. Knowingly making a false official statement is a violation of UCMJ, article 107.

3. Command Responsibility

a. Personnel receiving a formal complaint shall submit the complaint to the commander or other designated authority within 1 calendar day of receipt.

b. Identify available counseling support or referral services available for all personnel involved in incidents of discrimination and SH.

OPNAVINST 5354.1E
22 Jan 01

c. Within 24 hours of receipt of a formal complaint, advocates shall be assigned to each complainant, alleged offender and any witness to ensure they are informed about complaint processing. If the complainant, alleged offender, or witness do not desire the services of an advocate, they must state in writing and/or annotate on NAVPERS 5354/2 or by memo for the record. Appointed command advocates should:

(1) Not be a principal in the alleged complaint in any way;

(2) Be equivalent or senior to the assigned member (except when impracticable or the member consents);

(3) Not be appointed to assist more than one complainant, alleged offender, or witness (except when impracticable or with the members' consent).

d. The level of investigation on a formal complaint is determined by the commander.

(1) The investigation must commence within 72 hours of complaint submission. The investigating officer should be senior to the complainant and the alleged offender. The complainant will be notified by the investigating officer that the investigation has begun and will acknowledge this notification on the original NAVPERS 5354/2 or by memorandum for the record.

(2) A situation report (SITREP) describing the situation, using the format found in enclosure (5), must be sent to General Courts-Martial Authority (GCMA) and information addressees command's Echelon 2 commander, ISIC, CNO WASHINGTON DC//NOOE//, and COMNAVPERSCOM MILLINGTON TN//PERS6/PERS61// within 72 hours of complaint receipt.

(3) A close-out SITREP (using format listed above) must be sent describing action taken, within 20 days of investigation commencement. If the investigation is not completed at the 20-day point, a SITREP must be sent every 14 days thereafter until the close-out SITREP describing case outcome is released. The complainant's command is responsible for sending SITREPs upon initial complaint receipt through case resolution (including any subsequent appeal(s)).

(4) Complainants must be notified that the complaint has been resolved and informed of their right to request a review by the next higher authority. Complainant must be informed that the request for a higher level review must be made within 7 days of notification.

(5) When requested by the complainant, the command should provide a redacted copy of the investigating officer's final report (per the Privacy Act of 1974 and other applicable laws and regulations).

(6) Command must conduct a follow-up debrief 30-45 days after final action. Command follow-up will include a determination of complainant satisfaction with the effectiveness of corrective action, timeliness, present command climate and a review to ensure reprisal did not occur.

(7) Command must maintain complaints and investigations for 36 months.

e. If the complaint results in a hostile work environment, commanders will, when possible, temporarily relocate one or both parties, without prejudice, during the course of the investigation; however, commanders should give consideration not to move the complainant. Transfer of the parties involved shall not be considered by the commander to be a resolution of the complaint.

f. Regardless of the outcome of the investigation (substantiated or unsubstantiated), the commander will monitor potential reprisals by checking on workcenter climate and ensuring performance appraisals document job performance accurately (i.e. downgrades shall be supported by written counseling and not related to the complaint).

g. If the subject of the complaint is the commander, and their motivation in a particular situation could legitimately be called into question (as in the case of writing the complainant's fitness/evaluation report), the commander should consider requesting an appropriate reporting senior to fulfill their responsibilities.

4. Appeal Process

a. Both the complainant and the subject(s) of a complaint may appeal administrative findings per references (a) and (h).

b. The first appeal of a decision on a formal complaint should be to the first commander in the chain of command with GCMA. Final resolution of an appeal on a formal complaint will rest with Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV).

c. A complainant may submit an appeal on any legal or equitable grounds, based upon any of the following:

(1) The complainant's perception that existing Department of Defense (DOD) or Department of the Navy (DON) regulations were incorrectly applied in that particular case;

(2) Facts were ignored or weighed incorrectly;

(3) Remedial action ordered by a commander was insufficient under the circumstances; or

(4) Any other good faith basis.

d. The complainant may also submit documentation in addition to the complaint form, such as statements of witnesses, personnel record entries, etc., as may be helpful in resolving the appeal.

GUIDELINES FOR THE PERSONAL ADVOCATE

1. The function of a personal advocate (command representative) is to ensure that the complainant, accused, and witness in an equal opportunity (EO) case are informed about EO complaint processing and are advised of available support and counseling services. Although separate advocates must be offered to each, all may refuse assignment in writing. An advocate should keep all parties informed, especially the chain of command. When requested and practicable, advocates should accompany the complainant, accused, or witness to any meetings, debriefings, etc., to provide third party objective guidance.

2. The most important support an advocate can give is listening without prejudging the situation. Often the complainant, accused, or witness feels that they are not being heard. It is important to be aware that an advocate is still accountable to the chain of command. Ensure that the individual(s) involved understands there is no provision of confidentiality for advocates.

☒ An advocate should be familiar with the NAVPERS 5354/2, Navy Equal Opportunity (EO)/Sexual Harassment (SH) Formal Complaint Form, OPNAVINST 5354.1E, and any other directives that relate directly to the case.

☒ An advocate must be familiar with all local support and counseling services, which include, but are not limited to, EOAs, Navy Legal Service Office (NLSO), Family Service Center (FSC), Medical Treatment Facility (MTF), and chaplain. It is the advocate's job to ensure that the individual involved is afforded the various support services needed. This can include helping the individual make appointments, and working with the chain of command to ensure that the individual is given the opportunity to attend any scheduled meetings.

☒ An advocate must be aware of the possibility of reprisal against the individual to whom they are assigned. Advise the chain of command of any suspected act(s) of reprisal.
